

Home : News :

Video | Photo | Map

◀ ▶ 🔊 Share + Expand

Ice cream couple marry at work

Bridesmaids carried their flowers in waffle cones

Updated: Monday, 07 Jun 2010, 10:30 AM EDT
Published: Sunday, 06 Jun 2010, 8:19 PM EDT

Katie Giovinale

BEAVERCREEK, Ohio (WDTN) - A local couple brought their wedding to work Sunday when they exchanged vows at the Cold Stone Creamery at the Greene.

Family, friends and shoppers watched as Brantley Forbes and Ashley Dillion tied the knot on the store's outside patio.

"It started off as a joke," Dillon said. "We decided to go for it because it's like my second home - we had our first kiss here - good place to have it."

The patio was turned into a chapel setting, and bridesmaids carried their flowers in waffle cones.

"I like different things," Forbes said. "I like to stand out from everybody else."

The couple has been working at Cold Stone and dating for about two years.

More News Stories

Red carpet affair for Oakwood High
Oakwood High School got a taste of Hollywood when four students...